

CHARMING BEADS

Wyastone Business Park, Monmouth, NP25 3SR

REACH Compliance Declaration

Metal Findings & Components

Issue date	Version	Review
12 May 2026	1.0	October 2027

Scope

This declaration applies to metal jewellery findings, wires and components sold by Charming Beads that are sourced through our established upstream supplier.

Basis of declaration

Charming Beads retains written supply-chain confirmation that the metal findings and components supplied to us are covered by the upstream supplier's REACH compliance arrangements. The supplier has also confirmed that product-specific REACH declarations can be provided for individual products when required.

Charming Beads additionally holds product-specific REACH documentation within its compliance records. The documentation reviewed for this declaration is issued under Regulation (EC) No 1907/2006 (REACH) and addresses substances in articles, Candidate List substances of very high concern (SVHCs), and applicable Annex XVII restrictions.

Declaration

Based on the written compliance information supplied through our upstream supply chain and retained in our records, Charming Beads declares that the metal findings and components within the scope above are supplied on the basis of the upstream supplier's confirmation of compliance with the applicable requirements of EU REACH Regulation (EC) No 1907/2006.

This declaration is a supply-chain compliance statement. It does not represent independent laboratory testing of every Charming Beads product, and it should not be interpreted as third-party certification.

Use by customers

This declaration relates only to the Charming Beads components in the condition in which they are supplied. It does not certify the compliance of jewellery or any other finished article subsequently manufactured using those components. Customers placing finished products on the UK, EU/EEA or any other market remain responsible for determining and meeting the legal requirements applicable to their finished products.

Supporting information & confidentiality

Supporting compliance documentation is retained by Charming Beads. Where a product-specific declaration is reasonably required, Charming Beads may obtain supporting documentation for the relevant component from its upstream supplier. Supplier identity, commercial sourcing information and confidential upstream documents are not disclosed as part of this declaration.

Review

This declaration will be reviewed periodically and may be updated where relevant regulatory requirements or upstream compliance information change.

Issued by Charming Beads

Wyastone Business Park, Monmouth, NP25 3SR